services and support ranging from desktop support, business continuity, disaster recovery, remote and on-site support, proactive network monitoring and ongoing maintenance services.

Fifty companies, including Stratosphere Networks, were named finalists among the best places to work in Illinois, and a community vote was held to determine the top 10. While their staff has more than doubled in the past three years, the managed service provider is always hiring to keep up with their continuing growth.

Majority of the team members who have been with the company for more than a year have
